THE UNITED STATES MINT
FACILITIES AND FUNCTIONS

West Point, NY
Philadelphia ,PA
Washington, DC
Fort Knox, KY
Denver, CO
San Francisco, CA
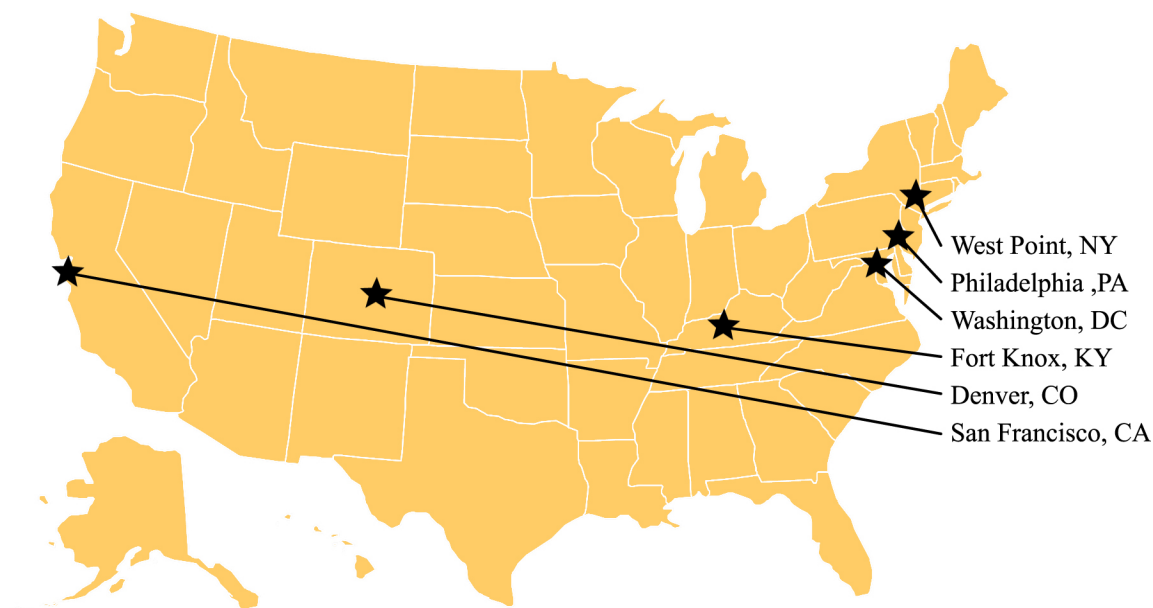

United States Mint Headquarters at Washington, D.C.
Sets policy, manages the United States Mint's programs, its production facilities and the United States Bullion Depository, conducts research and development, markets products, provides customer service, processes orders, and operates the Union Station kiosk and sales counter.

The United States Mint at Philadelphia, PA
Engraves all United States coins and medals, manufactures coin and medal dies, mints coins of all denominations for general circulation, uncirculated coin sets and commemorative coins as authorized by law. It also conducts public tours and houses the facility's sales center.

The United States Mint at Denver, CO
Manufactures coin dies, mints coins of all denominations for general circulation, uncirculated coin sets and commemorative coins as authorized by law. It also conducts public tours and houses the facility's sales center.

The United States Mint at San Francisco, CA
Mints annual proof coin sets and silver proof coin sets.

The United States Mint at West Point, NY
Mints all silver, gold and platinum American Eagle uncirculated and proof coins and various commemorative coins as authorized by law. It also serves as a supplemental storage facility of precious metals for the United States Bullion Depository.

The United States Mint at Fort Knox, KY
Stores millions of ounces of the nation's precious metal assets.